About Wolf

• The wolves live in Slovakia.
• The colour of the wolf varies: it can be gray, white, black, red, brown, etc. At birth, pups usually have darker fur and blue eyes.
• They live in groups. There are between six and eight wolves in the group.
• The highest in the clamp is the so-called Alpha pair, which consists of a male and a female, usually the creators of the entire clamp.
The beaver is the biggest European rodent. It lives in Slovakia, too. In Slovakia the beaver is protected by law. The beaver is brown and black. Its body shape is clumsy with short legs. It has got long orange teeth. The beaver lives in groups. There are 4 – 5 beavers in the group. Beaver couples stay together for whole life. Beavers build their homes near the rivers or lakes. Beavers mostly eat bark.
